Dear manager,

I am writing this letter to express my interest in your job offer. I think there are many good benefits of immigration. I hope to enjoy a better life style, better salary and better working conditions. Besides, I am thinking of a better education for my children in the future. I do believe that education is one of the most important ingredients of success. The USA has got the best universities in the world. So the reasons of immigration are not only financial but also social and educational.
